SAD DEATH OF J. H. STIGALL

Was on His Way Home to Call Jornia After a Visit With Itol's
a lives Near Here—Remains Enroute to This City Where Interment Will Take Place.

A telegram was received here Monday announcing that J. H. Stigall had been killed Sunday evening in a railroad wreck on the Santa Fe about eight miles east of Kinsley, Kas. Mr.
and Mrs. Stigall, whose home is in Los Angeles, Cal., have been visiting for the past two months at the home of Mrs. Stigall's parents, Mr.
and Mrs. William Harrison, east of the city. Mr. Stigall started for his home on Saturday, Aug. 6, going from here to Peoria over the C. & P.
& St. L. and from there to Kansas City, where he narrowly escaped injury in a wreck. Here he met his brother, who was to accompany him home. His wife is still here and at once sent a telegram to Mr. Stigall's brother to bring the body to this city
for interment.

Mr. Stigall was riding on the second section of passenger train No. 9, carrying a party of Eagles to the national convention at Denver, Colo., when the passenger train crashed into the rear end of a freight train. Several of the freight cars were demolished and the engine and baggage cars of the passenger train were wrecked. Henry Schwartz, of Newton, Kas., fireman on the passenger train,
was also killed, and Engineer Ramsey was severely injured. No other passengers were seriously hurt.

Mr. Stigall was about 35 years of age and has been employed in the yards at Los Angeles for some time.
He is survived by his wife and one son.

A telegram from Mr. Stigall's brother late Monday evening stated that he was on his way with the body and will possibly arrive here some time today.

ABOUT CIGARS

Armstrong & Armstrong Tell
What Jacksonville Smoker
Most Enjoy.

"You would be surprised," said Mr.
Armstrong of Armstrong & Armstrong's cigar store to see the different selections of cigars made in our store in the course of a day, and near each man's reason for his preference." Continuing he said that the majority of Jacksonville smokers
now prefer a Wadsworth Bros. cigar.
It is a finely flavored, clear Havana
cigar made from tobacco thoroughly ripened under the rays of the southern sun. The tobacco used in the cigars is fully matured and seasoned and burns finely and perfectly with a fine flavor and fragrance. Mr. Armstrong says a cigar with a dark wrapper, as this shows that the tobacco has been fully matured, but which ever color, light or dark, is selected in the Wadsworth Bros. Cigar Co., you will get a good, pure, satisfying smoke at five cents, a cigar equal to the ordinary ten and fifteen cent values.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Boston & Maine Line Trains
Experiment—Rain Affected
Burlington Track Near Wave-
only—Items of Interest and Personal Mention.

A large supply of peat exists at Lexington, Mass., and the Boston & Maine railroad has been induced to conduct a number of experiments to ascertain the value of the fuel for locomotive purposes. The treatment consists in cutting out the peat in large cubes and then subjecting them to heavy pressure, which excludes all the moisture and makes the mass compact. In the pressing the cubes take on an elliptical shape, with an inch hole running through them, which admits of free burning. In reporting on the first experiments the officials of the road say that they found that this fuel made an exceptionally hot fire, an admittedly valuable feature, was free from smoke, and that it could be purchased for less than coal. From an economical standpoint, however, the coal showed to better advantage owing to slower consumption, but the two advantages named for the peat fully offset that in favor of coal. That which has been tried in the locomotives has been exposed to the elements all last winter without depreciating its burning qualities.

The heavy rain Sunday made the new Burlington track south of this city a little weak in places. Trains were ordered to run very slow trains
the new track south of the steam shovel at Virden and also south of Waverly.

Wm. Hoffman, baggageman at the Alton passenger depot, is taking a two weeks vacation, which he will spend with relatives in Bloomington and elsewhere. W. H. Snyden, formerly agent at Ashtand, is substituting.

Mike Kennedy, of the C. & P. & St.
L. boiler shops, went to Havana Monday to work on engine No. 3.

Wm. Doyle and Thomas Kendrick have resumed their work in the O.
& St. L. boiler shops after several days of absence.

R. C. Schmeltz, assistant engineer of the Beardstown division of the O. & St. L., has gone to Beardstown on business.

A tourist sleeper was attached to Wabash passenger train No. 9 Monday at Toledo, carrying a baseball team to Kansas City.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad backs.
They cure every form of kidney ills.
From common backache to diabetes.
They are endorsed by Jacksonville people.

Mrs. W. H. Litter, of 512 South East street, says: "I had heavy aching,
burning pains in my loins and kidneys. I could not rest at night, and often got up in the morning feeling mortified and worn out than when I went to bed. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. I also suffered a great deal from headache and dizziness. I tried very easily and the least cold or over-exertion made me much worse. I was advised to try Doan's Kidney Pills and got a box at Dr. H. Lee Hatch's drug store and began their use.
The distress in my back left me and the secretions became regular and normal."

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure gives way,
the building is bound to come down.
This principle can be applied to disease. Take medicine that will remove the cause of sickness, and a cure is sure to follow. Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick-headache, and biliousness,
their foundation is stomach disorders.
Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure drug that sells for 25c per box. It is Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills.
One for a doctored. They make the cure by taking away the cause. Write to

CREMATING CUPID

(Copyright, 1905, by W. Sargent.)
"What's all this?" said Marion looking at the envelope smouldering upon the open fire.
"It's a good thing," she sighed, "that we found out our mistake in time. You are so practical, you take all the romance out of life."

"You did not appear to think so once," he argued.
"Idealized you," she admitted. "I suppose it was the glamour of the birth of love."

Marion smiled. He hated those hyper-elegant speeches. "It seems to me," he suggested, "that 1876's birthday was registered upon the vital statistics about the time Adam woke up and found Eve by his side."

She gave a start at the suggestion of vital statistics in connection with love.
It was Marion's matter of fact speech that had led her to ask him to release
her from their engagement.

"Love is born afresh," she corrected gently, "with each new conquest. Love is ever old and ever young."

"Yes," said Marion bitterly, "and sometimes he's old enough to know better, when he falls back on that
'born again' plea."

"Have you no poetry in your soul?"
she demanded irritably.

"Yes," he admitted calmly. "That's where I keep it; not on the tip of my tongue, like some of the chaps who can talk a lot and mean so little."

"When love really comes to you—"
she began.

"It has come," he interrupted. "It came to me when I first saw you con-ing down the stairs at the hotel. I did not know then that you were in Mrs.
Hargrave's party, but I did know that you were the one woman in the world for me."

"And yet," she insisted, "you have placed your business before your promised wife."

"No," he contradicted. "I have never done that, but I have gone at my work with greater spirit because I knew that I was working for a home and for the sweetest little woman in the world."

Marion raised her hand with a helpless gesture of dissent.

"The trouble is," he went on, "that you thought you were engaged to a vir-tuous man and expected me to talk like the hero. I cannot."

"That is just it," she interposed gently. "I saw that you could not give me
the love I needed and asked you to break our engagement."

"Cannot you understand," he pleaded, "that it is because I love you so much that I cannot talk like a lairdret? It is just a diffidence I could talk up all sorts of pretty things.
Now I can only think of you and I choke all up," he concluded lamely.

"You will soon find some one else,"
she smiled tolerantly. "Some faithful soul who will understand and not demand too much."

"And you," he cried miserably, "will marry some addle pated fool who will speak honeyed words before you are married and carry them to some one else afterward."

"I shall never marry," she said decidedly.

"Nor shall I," he cried. "There," pointing to the blackened paper in the grate, "rests my romance. We have cremated Cupid, but his spirit lives on here in my heart."

He rose and lightly kissed the broad white forehead. "I'm sorry," he said
hoarsely, "you could not be content with the fact without expression."

Marion rose unsteadily to her feet.
The burning of their old love letters
had appealed to her sense of the romantic. It had afforded her a mournful pleasure. Now, something in her heart spoke insistently. She forgot that Marion could not make the pretty speeches for which she hungered. For the first time she sensed the mighty love of the man—a love too powerful,
too deep, to find expression in idle speeches. She realized at last what love really was, through the destruction of her self established ideals.
Marion had almost reached the door.

"Jim," she called softly.

He turned and came forward. In tone and look he saw what she could not put in words, and he took her in his arms.

"And you said we had cremated Cupid," she said several minutes later.

"Love is like the phoenix," he answered tenderly, "rising from the ashes purified by the fire through which he has passed."

"And love," he concluded, "for an eternity."

ECKMAN CHAPEL

Appropriate Exercises Mark
Dedication—Address by Dr.
Eckman and Other Prominent Speakers—Basket Picnic Enjoyed at Noon.

The new Eckman chapel, southwest of Ashtand, was dedicated with imposing ceremony Sunday, with an appropriate program of exercises. Rev.
J. W. Eckman, famous as an evangelist and for whom the chapel takes its name, was present and told of the beginning of the work that led to the establishment of chapels of this character under the Methodist denomination forty years ago. He spoke to a large congregation Saturday evening and again Sunday morning. The dedicatory sermon was preached Sunday morning by Dr. George Scrimger and was preceded by an old fashioned Methodist love feast.

At noon a basket picnic was enjoyed and in the afternoon President
J. R. Barker, of the Woman's college of this city, delivered an address. President Barnes, of the Wesleyan university of Bloomington, was among the speakers expected to appear upon the program, but the rain of Sunday afternoon prevented his keeping his appointment. The program made provision for a service
Sunday evening, but the inclemency of the weather made the abandonment of this service necessary.

The music for the occasion was a special feature. The solos of Mrs.
J. A. Murray, wife of the pastor of the new chapel, were greatly enjoyed and the singing of the Bluffs Springs quartet was a very helpful part of the exercises.

The building committee of the chapel
was composed of George Jockisch, H. B. Baxter, William Riley and Howard Jockisch, and the chapel was dedicated free of debt.

In speaking of the recent marriage
of James Bowen and Miss Daisy K.

parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. K. Harper, at 9 o'clock p. m., in the presence of relatives only. Rev. L. O. Bricker officiating.

The bride is spoken of as a very charming and accomplished young lady, who is very popular in the social circles of her home city, and the groom is also well spoken of, his work with the Cameron Military band, of which he is director, being especially commended. Mr. and Mrs.
Bowen will be at home at 201 South
Cherry street, after Aug. 23.

The lid question has taken a new phase. It is now up to the church festival committees to keep the lemonade from being spiked.

From some of the expressions found in the press reports one might be persuaded to believe it was a great poker game that was in progress in Portsmouth.

Bishop Fellows should be given credit over the others for the way in which he says it. He declares Rockefeller to be "morally color blind."

We do not know the color of the card the president has up his sleeve in case the peace conference fails, but we have faith to believe it will be ace high when played.

Norway enjoys the distinction of clamoring for separation from Sweden, but her people express no desire to surrender the monarchical form of government. The old way seems good enough for Norway.

Latest reports indicate that the dove of peace is still resting quietly under the sheltering care of the American eagle and that the pipe of peace is still aglow.

American goods, exported for the fiscal year ending 1904-05 broke all records. Now if we could break our record in importation of undesirable foreigners we would indeed have cause for congratulation.

The cry of "yellow peril" in Asia raised by M. de Witte will not create American sympathy, as at the present time we have a yellow peril nearer home that is demanding our attention.

The Fabian policy that the peace conference are pursuing is favorable to the hotel keepers at Portsmouth, who could doubtless be persuaded to provide winter quarters should the exigencies of the case demand them.

Secretary Taft is authority for the statement that the prosperity of the Philippines has killed the "independence idea." There never would have been an independence idea if the American jingo had kept his hands off.

If the peace conference ends in failure the battle that follows in Manchuria will be to the death. Both sides have been fortifying their lines for months and when the opposing forces meet the carnage and slaughter that is sure to result is dreadful even to contemplate.

To a man up a tree the Taggart case will not be settled until the principals have taken a course at some institution for the cure of inebriety. Their case is in the wrong jurisdiction for a settlement that will be of any lasting value to either party.

NOTICE.

Dr. Edward Wharton will be absent from the city until Aug. 22.

WELCOME RAIN.

The heavy rain of Sunday arrived none too soon and the benefit done to growing crops can hardly be estimated. Corn was especially needing moisture and the steady downpour began early in the afternoon and continued until after midnight. The rainfall was quite general throughout the county and according to the observation of George Hall, United States volunteer observer of Alexander, the precipitation was 1.96 inches, a heavy precipitation for this season of the year.

LELAND HOTEL MAY CHANGE HANDS.

Springfield News—The report that the Leland hotel of this city had been leased to William and Frank Van Valkenberg of Danville seems to have been premature. It is not denied that negotiations have been under way for some time by which the famous hostelry was to pass from the control of the Wiggins family to new parties, but it is stated that the affair has never reached the stage of complete bargain. There is little doubt, however, that the hotel will change hands before long and that it will be remodeled by the new proprietors. It is understood that Horace L. Wiggins, the present manager of the hotel, will take up farming with his brother, Louis Wiggins, who has been partner in the hotel business since the death of their parents.

PEOPLE OF THE DAY

New Head of War College.
 General Thomas H. Barry, who has just been appointed president of the United States war college, is now in Manchuria with the Russian army, and his orders to the new assignment will be withheld until fall, when he will have completed his present assignment. The appointment of General Barry settles a controversy between general officers of the army, General Lind and Carter having also been considered by the special board of army officers charged with making those assignments.

Several months before the assembling of this board to fill the vacancy Lieutenant General Chaffee asked General Barry if he would like to be designated.

BRIGADIER GENERAL THOMAS H. BARRY.

Named as president of the army war college, General Barry, declined the honor. General Chaffee concluded that General Carter should receive the assignment. The board of officers appointed to make the selection was divided between Generals Lee and Barry and finally decided to recommend General Barry, notwithstanding his previous declination. This recommendation was approved by Acting Secretary Oliver.

This action, of course, is a high tribute to the ability of General Barry and shows how well he is thought of by his fellow officers.

General Barry is a native of New York city and a graduate of West Point Military academy, class of '77. On leaving West Point he was assigned to duty in the west, where he spent several years fighting Indians and other frontier duty. During the Spanish war he went to the Philippines as assistant adjutant general under General Otis. When the Boxer trouble broke out General Barry went to Peking with General Chaffee on the relief expedition, later serving as adjutant general of the Eighth army corps and department of the Pacific in the Philippines. In 1900 he was made chief of staff. General Barry is in his fifty-first year.

Governor of Hawaii.
 George R. Carter, governor of Hawaii, who recently visited President Roosevelt to tender his resignation, has reconsidered his determination to resign and will return to his duties in Honolulu.

It is said that President Roosevelt expressed his complete satisfaction with the manner in which Governor Carter has administered his office under conditions that would be heart-breaking to a man with less courage. The practical politician in Hawaii is said to be as practical as in any part of the Union, and with an elected territorial legislature Governor Carter, in his attempts to usher in an era of political rectitude, has found him a formidable factor to be reckoned with. He was appointed to succeed Governor Dole, who was appointed one of the United States district judges of Hawaii, and at once encountered opposition.

GEORGE R. CARTER.

Since then all sorts of obstructions, according to Governor Carter, have cropped up in his official path. It was this that prompted his visit to Sacramento Hill. There is good authority for the statement that he is going back to his ball with the assurance of vigorous support from the administration.

Governor Carter, who is but thirty-six, is a native of Honolulu and comes of a family that was established there three-quarters of a century ago, his grandfather having arrived in the islands on a whaler in the early thirties. Mr. Carter is a graduate of Yale and was a member of the varsity football team and of the boat crew while in college.

Troubles of a Cross Examiner.
 Speaking of the tribulations of the cross examiner, Henry Wollman cites this experience:

In the progress of a murder trial near Kansas City he wished to learn from a witness just where the bullet struck the victim.

"Where was this man shot?" was asked.

"Right here in this town," replied the witness.

"Yes, I know. But where did the bullet hit him?"

"Near Sixth and Wyoming streets."

"You don't understand me. Where did the bullet enter?"

"It came in at the window."

"But in what part of the body did it lodge?"

"It never hit his body."

"Well, it certainly hit him somewhere—he is dead."

"Hit him in the head," said the witness.—New York Times.

Another Kind of Black Smith.
 Colonel John Smith, a very dark complexioned man of Hollis, Me., was the wag of the town.

A peddler driving through the town one evening discovered that his horse had thrown a shoe. Calling at the first house he came to, he inquired, "Is there a blacksmith near here?"

"Yes," said the man who came to the door, "in that big white house on the hill lives a black Smith."

The peddler, thanking him, drove to Colonel Smith's house, which was the big "white one." Colonel Smith came to the door.

"Your neighbor told me a blacksmith lived here," said the peddler. "Are you the man, and will you put a shoe on my horse?"

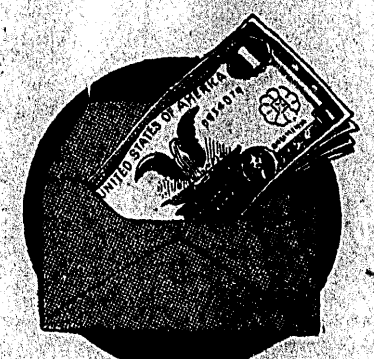

Colonel Smith laughed and said: "I am a black Smith, as you can see, but I don't shoe horses. You'll have to go to a man of a different color."—Boston Herald.

THUNDER SHOCK KILLS BOY.

Mexico, Mo., Aug. 14—Otto Smith, a 12-year-old boy, died here under peculiar circumstances. He was playing in the yard when there was an unusually loud clap of thunder, and before the sound of claps he fell dead. He was recovering from a serious illness, and it is believed the shock caused his death.

REDS AT CARROLLTON.

The Jacksonville Reds defeated a team Sunday at Carrollton in a poorly played game, by a score of 18 to 8. The batteries were Shannahan and Everts; Taylor and Ury.

Roots For the Pig.

Wherever roots are used as part of the pig's ration quite remarkable results are obtained, apparently out of all proportion to the feeding value of the roots. This seems to show that the roots serve to render grain food more digestible. Although pigs do not like raw turnips, yet when the turnips are cooked and mixed with raw potatoes or cabbages they will eat them readily. When a small amount of bran is fed with this mash, good gains are made.

Feeding the Dairy Cow.

A cow must receive an abundant supply of feed at all times if we expect her to produce a large flow of milk. Spasmodic spurts of feeding count for naught, but it is the evenly sustained yields that produce large records.—Hoard's Dairyman.

Marketing a Horse.

When fitting a horse for the market bear in mind the fact that 100 pounds of fat on the animal will often add $100 to his selling value and sometimes more than that.

Harvesting Beans.

Beans at harvest time are likely to sustain damage if the pods are allowed to lie in contact with the soil long at a time.

Freak of Lightning—Natural Gas and Oil Struck at Various Places in State—Notes of Interest.

Quincy—Mrs. William Eyers, of Eighth and State streets, had a narrow escape from serious injury Monday morning. She was standing near the window in her home cleaning a silver spoon when she experienced a light shock and the spoon was wrenched from her hand and hurled to the floor. When she picked it up, she found that it had turned back. Lightning had struck in the immediate vicinity of the house and the electric fluid had entered through the open window, giving her quite a shock and discoloring the spoon. Mrs. Eyers is the daughter of H. Heidbreder, the State street druggist, and resides with her husband in the same house with her parents.

Casey—S. E. Duff and A. S. McClintock, who have the franchise for piping the city with gas, have returned from the eastern office and are now taking measurements for their plant. They say work will be commenced on the line at once and that the plant will be completed in 120 days, the time specified in the franchise. The citizens are very anxious to have the plant completed that they may use gas instead of coal this winter.

Kansas—Starkey and Shimmel have struck gas and oil on the farm of William McEvoy, southeast of Kansas. Oil sand was reached at a depth of 320 feet. From every indication the flow will be strong. At a depth of 335 feet a strong flow of gas was struck. The gas was ignited and before the blaze was under control a portion of the wooden derrick was destroyed. A company is to be organized.

Annapolis—The well on the R. D. Athey farm has resumed activity in gushing out oil by the tub full. This well has been viewed by many of the oil men from the Clark county field and is pronounced a wonder. Owing to the oil and gas flow the men experienced difficulty in working around the well, as it rushes forth great volumes of oil and gas. Drilling around here will be pushed with all the rapidity possible. Coal leasers also are getting busy in the field.

Quincy—Coroner Thomas held an inquest Saturday evening over the remains of Beril Shelby, colored, son of Mrs. Addie Shelby, of 905 North Ninth Street. The child's death, which occurred very unexpectedly, was due to cholera infantum. Mrs. Shelby has lost her eldest boy, who was drowned, her husband, another child and now her youngest—all within the space of two months. The mother is now left alone with her sorrow.

Galesburg—During the severe electrical storms Saturday night and Sunday the new grand stand on the county fair grounds was destroyed. The stores of O. T. Johnson & Co. and P. A. Dean and St. Patrick's church and several other properties were damaged by lightning and both telephone systems were demoralized.

Virginia—James Stigall, a veteran of the civil war and well known member of Downing post, G. A. R., last evening had the misfortune to sever his right foot while cutting lumber. It is feared that the severe shock, loss of blood and unavoidable delay in procuring medical aid may cause serious results.

WINNING AN AUTOGRAPH.

Dr. W. G. Grace, the most famous cricketer in England, probably has given his autograph as often as any other celebrity. At a match not long ago he wrote his name in the notebook of a little girl. A couple of weeks later, much to his surprise, the same little lady shyly sidled up to him with the necessary documents and the request for his autograph. "But I gave it you only a few days ago," laughingly said the veteran. "Oh," came the answer, "I changed that one for two bishops." Dr. Grace laughed heartily as he replied: "Well, my dear, if a cricketer is worth two bishops, I don't believe I ought to give you another autograph, but your naïveté is so delicious I suppose I must, so there you are."

Five Men and a Coincidence.

In the early days of newspaper syndicate articles and stories, when the idea was yet young, five men of tender age were making out a living on the simultaneous publishing idea. These young fellows were S. S. McClure, now the editor and principal owner of McClure's Magazine; Irving Bacheller, the well known author of "Eben Holden"; Edward Bok, the editor of the Ladies Home Journal and son-in-law of Mr. Curtis; Frederic E. Colver, publisher of the new American Illustrated Magazine, for thirty years Leslie's Monthly, and Frank M. Doubleday, now the publisher of the World's Work, Country Life and the Garden Magazine.

Making the Public "Wise."

It sometimes pays to take the public into one's confidence. It is reported that some eastern packed preserves on sale in the northwest are labeled with the following legend: "The contents of this package are preserved with the very highest grade of a salicylic acid and the very finest quality of coal tar dye." The chances are (we can't be positive) that the goods will sell as readily as if the consumers were kept in ignorance, providing the state laws allow salicylic acid and coal tar dyes to be used in food.—Merchant's Review.

A French View of William II.

This is how Henri de Noussance, a French author, sums up the German emperor: "He really knows nothing. One looks in vain in his words, examines their humor, their substance, their intelligence, their utility, their precision, their good sense and their intent. Only occasionally do we find gleams of almost human intelligence amid the platitudinous commonplaces of his incoherent declamations. This man is always on the surface of everything."

Food Products in Transit.

A new process in the preservation of food products in transit has been invented by Charles Blagburn of Antioch, Cal. Use is made of the vacuum, and by it fruits can be kept for three months without decay, according to the Indianapolis News; besides the fruit does not ripen further in the vacuum. A refrigerator car costs $750 for a transcontinental trip. In the new way the transportation would cost $200.

Plant Lice.

Fifty-eight persons competed to get the prize offered at Frankfurt, Germany, for the best method of destroying plant lice. The winner's preparation is as follows: Quassia wood, two and one-half pounds, to be soaked overnight in ten quarts of water and well boiled, then strained through a cloth and placed, with 100 quarts of water, in a petroleum barrel with five pounds of soft soap.

A Bloodthirsty Marshal.

The marshal of Hamilton, Mont., evidently does not intend to let the place go to the dogs. The Western News of Hamilton prints the following notice, which should be effective:

TAKE NOTICE.

All persons owning dogs and who do not pay dog tax on the same by the 15th of July will be killed.

JAMES HIGGINS, Marshal.

Latin-America.

Take all Latin-America from the Texas line to Cape Horn and then up the west side to California, throw in the three largest West India islands, the extent of coast line is immense, the wealth of the hinterland fabulous, yet the foreign trade is smaller than that of tiny Holland with its minute coast line.—Malahari in Harper's Weekly.

A Life For a Life.

Edgar Wallace of London set a trap in his room for a mouse. After he had gone to sleep the trap snapped and he awoke to find the room rapidly filling with gas from a burner that he had left half turned on. He turned off the gas and then opened the trap and released the mouse—a life for a life.—Chicago Journal.

CORDIAL INVITATION

ADDRESSED TO WORKING GIRLS

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helps Working Girls

Girls who work are, particularly susceptible to female disorders, especially those who are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

Day in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must get to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her—amiable and agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifested by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs, a lower part of the abdomen, in consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, monthly periods become painful and irregular, and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All of these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes: "Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. Before I took it, I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back and months were irregular. I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good. "Your medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right. I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedy. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer."

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond in treating woman's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

BAD BLOOD

INVITES DISEASE

The blood supplies nourishment and strength to every part of the body when it is rich, pure and healthy. When from any cause it becomes diseased or weak it cannot supply the nutriment the system needs, and the body is unable to resist the diseases and troubles that are constantly assailing it to break down the health.

I have used S. S. S. and found it to be an excellent blood purifier and tonic. My result my system became very much run down and debilitated. I lost twenty or more pounds, my hair began to fall out and was in bad shape. Seeing S. S. S. advertised I began its use, and am well pleased with the results. My system and general health have been wonderfully built up, and I do not hesitate to give S. S. S. the credit for it. H. MARTIN, Warren, O., 60 Second St.

Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison, etc., are the results of bad or diseased blood, and until this vital fluid is cleansed and made pure, strong and healthy, these diseases will continue. The greatest of all blood purifiers and tonics is S. S. S. It has been curing all diseases of the blood for more than forty years by going down to the very root of the trouble, forcing out all poisons and impurities and building up every part of the system by its tonic effect. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Skin Diseases, Scrofula, Catarrh, Old Sores, Malaria, Contagious Blood Poison and all other blood troubles, and cures them permanently. S. S. S. is the acknowledged king of blood purifiers and the greatest of all tonics. Books on the different diseases, and any medical advice you may wish will be given without charge.

AN ADVENTUROUS DUKE.

The Duke of the Abruzzi, who is now preparing for an exploring expedition in Central Africa, is undoubtedly the most adventurous prince in Europe. He seems to be perpetually devising new means to gratify his desire for physical and mental exhilaration. He has been shot over a hedge while motoring; he has listened while the ribs of his ship have been squeezed in by the pack ice of Prince Rudolph island until the vessel had to be abandoned, by which time his fingers had been frost bitten; he has surveyed the world from the clouds in his balloon, and he has attained to points on the Alps which no other man's foot has been known to tread.

A Good Claim on Hero Fund.

George Poehl, a fireman of the Grand Island, performed one of the most heroic deeds the other day ever known in railroad service. As the freight on which he was firing came around a curve he and the engineer saw a baby on the track ahead. The engineer reversed the engine, and Poehl climbed over the engine, while it was running fifteen or twenty miles an hour, and caught the child and threw it to one side. Poehl fell and had an arm and a leg cut off, but may live. His first words after the accident were, "If that child lives, I'm satisfied."—Belle-ville (Kan.) Freeman.

Peculiar Life Insurance.

A curious form of life insurance is springing up in French manufacturing towns under the name of La Tourmi (the ant). The peculiarity is that the longer a man lives the less he becomes entitled to. The payment of 4 shillings a month assures the payment of £200 to the heirs of a man dying before the age of thirty-eight; the payment diminishing proportionately to £102 at fifty-one. The idea seems to be that if a man dies young his children are likely to be in want, but that when he is fifty they will be able to earn their living.

Bill Nye's Suggestion.

Among the few honorary members of the Author's club is Maarten Maartens. When, in the spring of 1895, the name of J. M. M. van der Poortch Schwartz, for that is the real name of the distinguished Dutch novelist, was brought up for election, there were some gasps of amazement. The late Bill Nye immediately suggested that the membership committee act on the first half of the name at once, but hold over the rest until the autumn, when the weather would be cool.

A Loaded Cake.

During an interval in the June examination at Belgrade university, according to the London Globe, a professor saw the boys buying cakes in the playground. It struck him that just a bite or two between whites, would not be amiss, so he, too, purchased one of the same aids to indigestion. At his first chew his teeth met a piece of paper, and on inspecting it he found that it contained the answer to one of the questions in the examination carefully worked out.

A Queer Reunion.

A curious story comes from Chicago concerning two men, each of whom spied a collar button on the sidewalk at the same moment. Each, acting on a simultaneous impulse, stooped to pick it up, and each got a bad bump on the head for his pains. In the conversation which followed each simultaneously discovered that he was the other's brother. They had been separated for twenty years.

Work For the Insane.

Work for the insane is a special study at the Villejuif asylum, Paris. Painting, carving, sketching, and even tattooing are included, and recovery is often due to the employment. In other cases the condition of the patient's mind is mirrored in the work done, aiding the physician in his study of the case more than any long discussions or consultations.

The Football Player.

Dr. Edmund J. James of the University of Illinois has been making an investigation of records of football players. He says: "The football man under the best of conditions, so physically as to do his chances of achieving any kind of after."

LOCAL FOOTBALL

St. Louis Team Won at West Side Park Sunday Afternoon—Score Was 2 to 0.

The Wabash team of St. Louis defeated the locals at the West Side ball park Sunday afternoon by a score of 2 to 0. The Missourians were defeated here some weeks ago by a score of 4 to 1. A heavy rain began to fall about 2:30 and the game did not commence until 4 o'clock on account of the wet diamond. The game was excellent in every particular and was one of the best which has been played on the local field. Abernathy was hit by the Wabash players eight times, but the locals only hit Betts once. A. Smith, E. Smith, Gregory and Mohlenkamp were the St. Louis stars, while Butler, Schumm and Livingston did the playing for the Jacksonville team.

Mohlenkamp hit to third and went out in the first inning. A. Smith singled and reached second on Cunningham's hit. He reached third while Abernathy was trying to put him out at second and touched the plate on Bryan's fly to Schumm. The next and final run was made in the fourth, when LaBarge hit to center. He made second when Abernathy threw wide to first. Gregory struck out and LaBarge went to third. Watson singled, scoring LaBarge. Jacksonville certainly had a bad day of it, as they only put one man on third and three on second during the entire game. Only seven innings were played. The score:

FATAL COLLISION

Cleveland, O., Aug. 14.—A fast eastbound passenger train on the Nickel Plate road collided with a westbound freight train early to day at Kishman, O., near Vermilion, resulting in the death of twelve persons. At least twenty-eight others were injured, eight of whom will probably die.

The wreck, according to the officials of the company, was caused by a misunderstanding of orders, or the neglect to obey them on the part of the crew of the freight train. Aside from the engineer, the men killed on the passenger train were all riding in the smoking car at the head of the train, and were mostly foreign laborers in the employ of the Standard Oil company on their way from Fort Seneca, O., to Brookfield, in charge of a foreman.

Miss Elizabeth Holmes spent Sunday in Springfield.

AT THE GRAND.

The Century Stock company opened a three nights engagement at the Grand Opera house Monday evening presenting as their opening bill "A Texas Romance." The initial performance was a disappointment to the audience and to the players. The company met here Monday for the first of the season's engagements and the play staged was given by the cast for the first time. There were four acts and at the end of the third act one of the members of the organization came before the curtain and begged the indulgence of the audience stating the facts as above and assuring the patrons that the remaining offerings would be put on without embarrassment to either company or auditors.

The specialties between acts were very creditable and in this respect the company showed that they had some very clever artists. To night the bill will be "A Russian Spy."

LUNAR ECLIPSE

Partial Obscuration of the Planet Witnessed Monday Evening—Phenomenon Caused by Earth's Shadow.

There were many inquiries at the Journal office Monday evening regarding the lunar eclipse. Telephone calls asking the time of the eclipse were numerous and it was evident that a great many persons observed with deep interest this phenomenon of the heavens. A lunar eclipse is caused by the moon passing through the earth's shadow. The eclipse last evening was only partial and was generally visible in North and South America, Europe and Africa.

The moon entered penumbra about ten minutes after eight o'clock and entered the shadow about nine thirty. Ten o'clock and forty-one minutes marked the middle of the obscuration and the moon left the shadow about eleven o'clock and forty-three minutes. The predictions of the astronomical scholars were fulfilled to the letter and the moon left the penumbra about one o'clock and fourteen minutes.

Nature was kind in the early portions of the evening as the sky was unclouded but about midnight clouds began to gather and the face of luna was hidden from view.
